Annual Producer Registration with the Saskatchewan Sheep Development Board (SSDB)

SSDB would like the producers of Saskatchewan to have the following information:

1. The Agri-Food Act, 2004 Order No. 20/10. as pertaining to producer registration requirements.
2. There is no cost to registering with the SSDB.
3. Why do we need this information?
 - Numbers of sheep and producers are used for lobbying and developing the sheep industry.
 - Location of production unit determines producer region for voting purposes.
 - Email addresses are used for Ewe Line Services, misc. communication and Sheep Shape.
 - Mailing address is used for our various paper communications i.e.) research participation.
4. What is done with this information?
 - All information is kept confidential and is used internally, except when required by law to provide information i.e.) disease outbreak, surveillance and natural disaster.
 - Permission must be obtained from the producer when used for any other purpose
5. What are the advantages of registering?
 - Comply with the regulations.
 - To stay connected with the SSDB
 - Registered producers receive industry informational mailings.
 - Registered producers have access to free advertising on the www.sksheep.com website.
 - Registered producers, through Ewe Line, have the opportunity to access Ewe Shoppe specials, market opportunities and timely information.
 - Registered producers have the opportunity to vote and to contribute to the organization.
